5. Social Plugins

Our website uses social plugins (“plugins”) provided by the social network LinkedIn Inc., operated by LinkedIn Ireland Unlimited Company, Wilton Place, Dublin 2, Ireland (“LinkedIn”). The plugins are identifiable by a LinkedIn logo (white letter “in” icon). For a full list of all social Plugins please see <http://developers.facebook.com/plugins>

When you visit a page of our website that contains a social plugin, your browser establishes a direct connection to LinkedIn servers. LinkedIn directly transfers the plugin content to your browser which embeds the latter into the website, enabling LinkedIn to receive information about your having accessed the respective page of our website. Thus we have no influence on the data gathered by the plugin and inform you according to our state of knowledge:

The embedded plugins provide LinkedIn with the information that you have accessed the corresponding page of our website. If you are logged into LinkedIn, your visit can be assigned to your LinkedIn account. If you interact with the plugins, for example by clicking “Like”, or entering a comment, the corresponding information is transmitted from your browser directly to LinkedIn and stored by it. Even if you are not logged into LinkedIn, there is possibility that the plugins transmits your IP-address to LinkedIn.

For the information on the purpose and scope of data collection and procession by LinkedIn, as well as your rights in this respect and settings options for protecting your privacy please visit LinkedIn’s privacy policy: <https://de.linkedin.com/legal/privacy-policy?>

If you are a LinkedIn member and do not want LinkedIn to connect the data concerning your visit to our website with your member data already stored by LinkedIn, please log off LinkedIn before entering our website. Further you can block LinkedIn social Plugins by using add-ons for your browser, like the “LinkedIn Blocker”.
